To the PUBLIC, New-York, Oct. 16.

It is now upwards of six Years that I have published a weekly News Paper, under the Title of the New-York Gazette or Weekly Post-Boy, which I have the Pleasure to think has been generally acceptable, and publicly useful: But having now Occasion to alter the Title of my Paper, I hope for the same favourable Reception of the NEW-YORK JOURNAL OF GENERAL ADVERTISER, that my Paper met with under the former Title; since it will be conducted with the same Spirit, and to the same Ends,—the Suppression of Evil, and the Promotion of public and private Happiness. The Reasons of altering my Title are these, 1st, for the Sake of Distinction, as I am inform'd Mr. PARKER intends to publish a Paper under the former Title; and 2d, because, as he formerly publish'd a Paper under that Title, I would not avail myself of any Advantages from a Name originally assumed by him. The Number, for the Sake of more easily settling with my Customers, will run regularly on from my last Week's Paper. Perhaps, when Opportunity permits, I shall procure a Cut for the Head of my Paper, till which Time, it will be published in its present Form.

JOHN HOLT.

LATELY PUBLISHED,

A small Impression of

FREEMAN'S NEW-YORK ALMANACK,

Of which, some are yet to be sold, at the Printing-Office, near the Exchange,

At 3s. 6d. per Dozen, or 6d. each.

THE Calculations in this Almanack are made with the greatest Care, and are more in Number than are usually contained in any one Almanack.

It has the usual Tables, accurately calculated, the completest Accounts ever publish'd of all the Roads in the British Dominions in America, with the Postage to each Place; together with all the Lists and other Matters usually to be found in any other Almanacks. Besides which, there is added, An Account and Explanation of the Signs, Aspects, Planets, Comets and Stars, which are properly the Subjects of all Almanacks, with some other Matters, of Use or Entertainment, which of themselves are worth more than the Price for which the whole is sold.

The Author hopes, that when the Purchasers have had experience of his Almanacks, they will be as much approved as any in America.

TO BE SOLD, By THOMAS DOUGHTY.

Boat, Capt. Boulton, on the 6th Days from Falmouth, the following letters were received from the French Consulate at St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.

MR. de Bougainville has brought here from Paris, the ratification of the Treaty concerning the Cession of the Isles of the Maldives to Spain by France; and will soon embark for those Isles with a Commissary, and a Colony of Spaniards, to whom he will deliver up formally the Possession of them.

Advices are just received by the American Packet, of a great Earthquake in the Isle of Cuba; which has overturned and dismantled the City of St. Jago, in which very happily not above forty Lives were lost: But it was scarcely felt at the Hayannah.

From the Corfican Gazette.

Corte. On the 13th of April, the meditation of the Count de Marbeuf, an exchange of prisoners was concluded on between the Republic of Genoa and the State. The ceremony was performed under the walls of Furiati: Signo Barbaggi being commissioned to act in behalf of his excellency our General. It is condition'd in this exchange, that none of the prisoners on either side shall be employed upon actual service, while the troops of France remain in the island.

It is remarkable, that of the Corfican prisoners there have perished in the prisons of Genoa, in the space of three years, 163, for the most part young and stout men, who have died of mere want, and 356, who have been kept alive by the generous and pious care of an old Jesuit Father, one died on ship-board, three hardly survived their landing at Baffia, and the rest are in a bad way, that they cannot long enjoy their regained liberty, on the other hand, of the Genoese prisoners, taken by us in much greater numbers, only five or six have perished in our prison.

Some time ago an English vessel, laden with Barley coming from Sicily was wrecked near to Portovecchio, but the crew and part of the cargo had the good fortune to be saved. When the news of this misfortune was brought to General Probi, his excellency immediately dispatched a person of distinction, with a detachment of militia, to give all possible assistance to the English sailors.

Aug. 30. Mr. Wildman of Plymouth, appeared in his bee dress, at Norfolk-house, before the duke and duchess of Norfolk, and others of the nobility, who expressed great surprise on observing the command Mr. Wildman has over those sagacious insects.

This gentleman, who has made himself greatly famous through the West of England, for his command over bees, being come to town, gave notice to Dr. Templeman, secretary to the society for the encouragement of arts, &c. that he would pay him a visit on Wednesday the 27th of August in the afternoon, in his bee dress. Several gentlemen and ladies, who had heard of this intended visit, were assembled at the doctor's. About five o'clock Mr. Wildman came, brought through the city in a chair, his head and face almost covered with bees, and a most venerable beard of them hanging down from his chin, which rendered his appearance truly reverend. The gentlemen and ladies were soon convinced that they need not be afraid of the bees, and therefore went up familiarly to Mr. Wildman and conversed with him. After having staid a considerable time, he gave orders to the bees to retire to their hive that was brought for them, which they immediately obeyed with the greatest precipitation.

[Then follows the account of the engagement between the duke and his bees as published in our paper No. 1248.]

This extraordinary gentleman can tame wasps and hornets with almost the same ease as he does bees; and is actually engaged to go to a gentleman's house near Staines, to destroy a nest of hornets which, it is said, have made a lodgment in a building near the house, to the no small terror of the family.

Sept. 30. On the 7th instant, Mr. Wildman performed the following curiosities with the bees, at the Earl Spencer's seat at Wimbledon, Surry. The countess had provided three flocks of bees on purpose. The first of his performances was with one hive of bees hanging on his hat, which he carried in his hand, and the hive which they came out of in the other hand; which was to convince the Earl and Countess that he could take honey and wax without destroying the bees. Then he returned into the room, and came out again with them hanging on his chin, with a very venerable beard. After shewing them to the company, he took them out upon the grass walk facing his lordship's window, where a table and table cloth were immediately brought out, and set the hive upon the table, and made the bees come out of it; then he made the bees come out of a swarm in the air, the ladies and nobility standing amongst them and no person stung by them; he made them go on the table, and took them up by hand, and carried them up a door to many people, the table then go into the room, and the bees were exhibited again with the three swarms of bees, one on his head, one on his breast, and the other on his arm, and then went into his lordship, who was too much indisposed to see the former experiments; the hives which the bees were taken from were carried by one of the servants. He went into a room again, and came out with them all over his head, face, and eyes; and was led blind before his lordship's window. He then begged of his lordship that he would lend him one of his horses, which was granted; and was brought out in his body clothes. He then mounted the horse, with the bees all over his head and face, (except his eyes) and breast, and left arm, with a whip in his right hand, and the groom then led the horse backwards and forwards by his lordship's window for some time. He then took the reins in his hand, and rode round the house. He then dismounted, and made the bees march upon a table, and commanded them to retire to their hives, which they accordingly did.

Sept. 27. The report of a speedy accommodation between the Genoese and the Corficans, under the mediation of France, seems to have little better foundation than the sanguine wishes of the former, and their conceit of the influence which they think the interposition of the French must have, in bringing those brave islanders to what they call reason.

Oct. 2. Last Night, about nine o'clock, her Royal Highness, the Princess Caroline-Matilda, was married, at the Chapel Royal at St. James's. His Royal Highness the Duke of York stood as proxy for the King of Denmark; and at six this morning her Majesty set out from Carlton House, on her voyage to that Kingdom. Lady Mary Bothby, with some other persons of quality, attended her Majesty to Harwich, where she is to remain at the house of Gmuth Davis, Esq; collector of the customs, till such time as it may be convenient to embark.

We are informed that the Right Hon. Richard Right, Esq; member for Tavistock, will be appointed one of the Post-Office General, in the room of Lord Grantham.

Oct. 4. Their Royal Highnesses the Dukes of York and Gloucester, Prince Henry, and the Princess of Brunswick, were at Carlton House yesterday between five and six in the morning, to take leave of their royal sister, which was very affecting on all sides; and the Queen of Denmark shed tears when getting into her coach.

His Majesty has been pleased to create his Royal Highness Prince Henry-Frederick, Duke of Cumberland.

His Majesty has also appointed the Right Hon. the Earl of Northumberland a Duke, by the title of the Duke of Northumberland.

Oct. 7. They write from Mobile in West-Florida, that great part of the French traders settled in Louisiana were preparing to return to Cape Francois, the English having got the whole Indian trade on both sides the Mississippi into their own hands, for many hundred miles up the country.

From Helvoetsluis to Copenhagen is about six hundred English miles; and we are told the route of her Danish Majesty will be from Helvoet to Rotterdam, from thence to Schrolla, from thence to Munster, Paderbourn, and Osnaburgh; and after going through part of the Electorate of Hanover, will enter the Duchy of Bremen, and then through the Duchy of Linburg; will rest for a night at the castle of Harbourg, and then cross the Elbe in one of the Danish royal yachts, when her Majesty will enter Holstein, part of the Danish dominions, where she will be received by his Majesty.

Oct. 9. Letters from Madrid advise, that the earthquake in the island of Cuba (which lasted near seven minutes) had entirely swallowed up the quarries of Free Stone and Chalk-Pits in the neighbourhood of St. Jago; the inhabitants of which city all abandoned their houses, and took refuge, some in the open fields, others in the barracks erected in the great squares of the city, in one of which the host had been deposited. This calamity happened on the 11th of June last about midnight; though there were not above forty lives lost, yet the number of the maimed and wounded was far more considerable. The same earthquake was very violent at Bayamo, a port in that island, and eight flocks of bees continued to be taken, and accounts came away.

We hear the Dolphin man of war, and her consort, during their expedition to the South Sea, will make an attempt towards the discovery of Solomon's Islands, imperfectly mentioned by former voyagers; for finding out of which the governors of Panama fitted out several fleets, but without success.

Letters from the East Indies mention, that there had been an insurrection of the Malays in the island of Lucania, the capital of the Philippines, against the Spaniards, on account of the governor of Manila having attempted to establish the Mountaineers a regular militia.

There is a report from Jamaica, that the Mucko shore company, against the practices of the Spaniards, in availing themselves of the negroes, which threatened the colony, if not prevented by the intervention of the mother country.

Extract of a Letter from on board the Dutch Packet, arrived at Falmouth.

On the 31st of August, about the late Pico, one of the Western Islands, and about leagues to the westward of it, we fell in with the ship the York, Peter Berton, master, bound New-York, the master of which informed us two days before, he fell in company with a ship bound to Charles-Town, South-Carolina, some days before that, fell in with a Squadron, consisting of a frigate Commodore, half gallies, and one whole galley, cruised the Western Islands; one of their boats boarded the brig, and upon finding the master had a vessel, they suffered him to go, but not without taking his vessel; and on his remonstrating the Barbarians were so offended, as amongst themselves if they should not ram him, but he pleading strongly for mercy, they suffered him to depart with his vessel.

They write from the Granades, that the Governor of Hispaniola had issued a proclamation, notifying, that the whole island had been given to the King his master; but that such inhabitants chose to take the oaths to his most Christian Majesty were at liberty to remain in the enjoyment of their property.

By an express arrived yesterday from our ambassador at Paris, Prince Ferdinand had refused the French had offered him, viz. the Marshal Saxe had, Generalissimo of the army Prince of the blood.

An artist, who was to have acted the part of Visible Invisible, attended at a tavern in the street where several persons were present, and a verbal collection was made; but just as the performance was expected to begin, the fellow was getting out of the window, in order to go down into the street, but was pulled back in room by one of the gentlemen, and on being reproached as an impostor, he replied, he should be permitted, have acted his part extremely well while he was receiving the money he was expecting, and if he had got off he should then have acted the invisible part of the affair; he was then obliged to return all the money to the persons present, and asking pardon, and promising never more to offend, he was so lucky as to go away with whole bones.

One Robert Webber, capitally convicted at last Maidstone assizes, for a robbery on board the Medway man of War, but reprieved by his majesty to be transported, made strong instances to be rather hanged, promising to make great discoveries were he permitted to die: However he was transported with other convicts, and left behind him the following confession.

Maidstone Gaol, Sept. 11, 1766.

"This is to certify whom it may concern, that I would have made a full discovery of the destruction of the temporary bridge in April 1758; and in 1757 of a burglary committed in the house of Mr. Christopher Hay, now keeper of the Poultry compter; and of another burglary committed in the house of Mr. P. W—ll, for which Sir John Fielding offered a reward of 40l. it was committed in January 1764; and another burglary committed on the 5th of January 1765, in the house of Mr. Moses Christaine, a Jew, in Leadenhall street, for which a reward was offered by Sir William Stevenson of 100l. from the city, and 50l. from the loser."

St. James's, Oct. 4. On Wednesday the first instant, in the Evening, the Ceremony of the Espousals, or Contract of Marriage, between his Majesty Christian the VIIth, King of Denmark, (represented by his Royal Highness the Duke of York, his Procurator) and her Royal Highness the Princess Caroline-Matilda, his Majesty's youngest Sister, was solemnly performed in the great Council-Chamber here, by his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury. The next morning early her Majesty the Queen of Denmark, with her Attendants and Retinue, set out from Carlton House for Harwich, where her Majesty arrived on Thursday last, about Four o'clock in the Afternoon, and intended to embark on board the Mary Yacht for Holland, as soon as the wind should be favourable.

Harwich, Oct. 5. Her Danish Majesty got to Harwich, exactly a quarter after four o'clock: The wind being at N. E. it was not thought proper for her Majesty to embark. She then went to Mr. Davis, collector of the customs, dined, supped, and lay there, and this morning embarked, at half past eleven, with her whole retinue, though the wind is contrary, and they are still lying in the road. Her Majesty was preceded by Col. Desaguerra, and another Gentleman, in a coach and six. Mr. Reed, clerk of the stable, had the direction of

The said Farm is well water'd, and with exceeding good Swamps, some of which are brought to great Perfection, being fit for Hay or any Sort of Grain. Any Person intending to purchase the same, may apply to me the Subscriber, living on the Premises, who will give an indisputable Title for the same.

TO BE SOLD,

plantation in the bounds of Middletown, containing 177 acres, and three fourths of an acre, bounded southerly on Mattawan Creek, lying the bay. It is good land and well timbered. There is on it 23 acres of good salt Meadow, and a large orchard of the best grafted apple trees, some rich swamps, and a considerable quantity of low wood land, which if it were cleared would make good fresh meadow; it is generally good wheat land. There is on it a handsome convenient house almost as good as new, two stories high, and three rooms on a floor, and a large entry, two fire places below, and two above; the lower story is handsomely finished, a good stone cellar under the whole house, and a convenient kitchen adjoining; the whole house is flunged with cedar, part of the land has been cleared, and the chief part of the whole place is within good fence. It lies very handy and pleasant; and is convenient for oysters, clams, and fishing. There is a convenient place for a wharf, for sloops or smaller vessels to lie within two chains of the door. It is suitable for a farmer or a gentleman. Any person intending to purchase the same, may apply to ANNA BOWNE, widow, or to Obadiah Bowne, deceased, at Mattawan, who will give an indisputable title for the same.

Middletown, July 3, 1766. ANNA BOWNE.

SUPPLEMENT to the NEW-YORK JOURNAL, OR GENERAL ADVERTISER.—NUMB. 125H.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1766.

Further Advice by the Earl of Halifax Packet Boat Captain Boulderfon, and Captain Ives, arrived at Boston, from Bristol.

M E Z Z A N A, May 30.

THE Situation of the inhabitants of the neighbouring garrison of Ajaccio is become very critical. A ballad was lately composed and sung in the streets there, in honour of Liberty and our Country. The Genoese Commissary considering this as an insult, had it strictly prohibited; in consequence of which a mob ensued, and a man of the name of Caponne has been hanged. Reports have been spread, as if the citizens of Ajaccio had conspired against the French garrison, to which they have always paid the most respectful attention. The greatest diffidence and jealousy prevails among the citizens of Ajaccio, many of whom, and those of the first rank, have retired to this place, where they can live in greater security and freedom.

Constantinople, Aug. 16. Since the three shocks of the earth, which happened on the 5th, a Village near Rodosto has been entirely destroyed by the Fall of a Mountain, at the Foot of which it was situated.

L O N D O N,

Sept. 27. The dispute between the K. of P. and England is at present subsided. His demand, it is said, was half of our conquests in America, as co-partners in trade; on which England demanded half Silesia, and his other conquests, which the K. of P. refused, and threatened to invade Hanover: He was then informed, if any of the troops set foot on that Electorate, all his ships should be seized immediately, and then he might see whether the money he could raise in Hanover would be equal to the profit received by the trade of 600 ships constantly employed, which the K. of P. is possessed of.

Letters from Genoa advise, that Mr. de Valsamachi, who has been convicted of high treason, in offering to deliver up the island of Corfu to the Turks, is to be put to death there in a few days; and that an extraordinary embassy is talked of to thank the Grand Signor, for the great friendship he shewed toward the Republic, in rejecting his offer, and delivering up the criminal to them for punishment.

His Majesty was yesterday pleased to appoint the Hon. Major General Cary, to the command of the 43d regiment, late Lieutenant General Noel's, deceased.

Sept. 30. Mr. Barnes, a Gentleman near Staines in Middlesex, having a Nest of Hornets at the Top of the Inside of a high Barn, sent to Mr. Wildman, and desired his Assistance to destroy them. Mr. Wildman went upon the Business, and took a Hive with him up the Ladder, and upon his Approach to the Nest was stung by two of the Insects, but he soon qualified their Repentment and put them into the Hive, and afterwards drowned them.

Oct. 4. A scheme is said to be under consideration for introducing an equitable and easy land tax throughout the British provinces in North-America, which, without distressing the subjects, will more than compensate for the repeal of the stamp act.

Oct. 7. We hear that Thomas Prowle, Esq; Knight of the Shire for Somerset, will be made Postmaster-General, in the room of the Right Hon. the Earl of Grantham.

A Right Hon. Earl (Earl of H—d) came into his high employment at court a few days since, not through the resignation, (as reported) but the actual dismissal of the noble Duke (Duke of R—d) his predecessor, his Grace having positively refused to resign.

It is said the sum of 15,000l. per annum, which the late Duke of Cumberland enjoyed before the rebellion, will be settled by parliament on the present Duke.

It is worth observation, that in all human probability, the attention of parliament will be little less deeply engaged, the next session, with the affairs of the East, than it was in the last with those of the West; as well as, that the honour and right of Great Britain will be the principal points in agitation in the ensuing enquiry, as they were in the former one.

The News of Prince Ferdinand's entering into the French Service, causes great Surprise to many Persons. The man who led our Armies with such Courage, Intrepidity, and Fortitude, to change Sides, is very amazing, and at the same Time discovers Perfidy, which is disgusting. After having fought for us, and received Honours, besides being allowed a Pension for his great Services, to join our Enemies, discovers Avarice, Ingratitude, and Instability.—There needs no Argument to prove, that there must be some great Enterprize formed by France, when they have taken the greatest General of the Age into their Service, at so great a Price. It would be absurd to imagine, that they hire him to be inactive, therefore it is prudent to guard against the Consequences. [Later accounts contradict this.]

Governor Otho Hamilton has lately transmitted Home so favourable an Account of the Settlement of Placentia, that we hear a Parliamentary Aid will be granted next Sessions towards improving the Fisheries and Fur Trade thereof.

We hear the Sum of one Million Sterling for the Ransom of Manila, when paid, is to be converted into a new Fund, bearing four per Cent. Interest, transferable at the Bank.

It is said that a Tax will be laid, next Session of Parliament, on all Foreigners, who shall exercise any Trade or calling in any Part of Great-Britain.

Oct. 9. Yesterday there was a numerous Levee at St. James's. The Earl of Bute and his Son Lord Mount Stewart, were both present; after the Levee there was a Cabinet-Council.

Yesterday his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland went to Court in a fine new Carriage, with a ducal Coronet on the Top, in the same Manner as that of the Duke of York.

The same Day the Hon. William Mackenzie, Son-in-Law of the Earl of Harrington, kissed his Majesty's Hand on being created a Peer of Scotland, by the Title of Lord Fortrose.

Dispatches of great Importance, from the Court of Spain, are said to have been received Yesterday at St. James's.

They write from Lisbon, that the Court was going to prohibit the Importation of Velvets from Genoa, in Order to favour the Manufactures of G. Britain.

It is talked that a Personage in the Ministry has proposed a Scheme for laying a Poll Tax on all the Jews in the Kingdom, which will produce a round annual sum into the Exchequer.

It is said, that the Inhabitants of New-York, by establishing so many Manufactories in that Province, will make an annual Saving of upwards of 200,000l.

We are informed, that Patents are making out for seven or eight new Peerages; amongst the rest, it is said, the Earl of Bristol and Lord Viscount Townshend are to be created Marquisses.

COUNTRY NEWS.

Richmond, in Surry, August 27. The following is a true account of the horrid murder committed by Richard Mihill, on his brother Robert Mihill, both sons of a baker in this town.

About a month ago Richard Mihill, was under some difficulty to pay a small debt, for which a writ was made out against him, and delivered to two of the officers of Kingston court, who went to Richmond, in order to arrest the defendant; but he judging their business, retreated, with a pistol in his hand, and, with oaths and imprecations, threatened to shoot the first man that should endeavour to take hold of him; the officers did not execute the process, but went and applied to his mother to see what she would do; who willingly paid the demand of the officers, to extricate him from that trouble, as she had often done before on other occasions. Notwithstanding this indulgence, the unhappy man wanted some more money, and, with a knife in his hand, threatened to cut his mother's throat, if she refused to supply him, who was thereupon obliged so to do. This affair reaching the ear of his brother the unfortunate deceased, he told his mother, she might work for ever to no purpose and all the care he, the deceased, could take, would be of little avail, if he would give way to relieving the prisoner with money every time he would apply. Something of this being told Richard, he publicly declared he would be revenged on his brother Robert, who, very worthily, had the care and management of the business of a baker, for his father, who is much advanced in years. The above declaration of Richard being told to Robert, and being advised to swear the peace against Richard, he did so, and got a warrant to apprehend him; but alas; the usual good-nature of the worthy, unhappy deceased, induced him, a day or two after, to go to the officer who had the warrant, and desire him to give it up; alledging, he believed it was only passion in the prisoner to drop those words; that he was his brother, and should it be executed he must be committed to goal, where, in all likelihood; he might long remain for want of bail, which he could not bear a thought of, and therefore desired to forgive him; upon which the warrant was given up, and a day or two after, the deceased met his most wretched, wicked brother, and generously accosted him thus; "Dick, I am not afraid to meet you, though you have publicly threatened my life; you are my brother, I never did you wrong, therefore conclude you can mean me no harm; I had got a warrant against you, which I now destroy; I am no more than a journeyman to my father, there is all the money in my pocket; and gave the prisoner seven shillings: The ungrateful wretch's return for this kindness was, the next time he saw the deceased, which was on Saturday the 23d instant, coming with some potatoes in his apron into the shop, the prisoner, without speaking a word, with a case-knife, struck the deceased across his wrist, and cut his arteries, and stabbed him in the breast; which wound would not have been mortal, according to the surgeon's account, but the bloody villain made a second stab, which reached the main artery of the heart; on which the deceased endeavoured to cross the way to Mr. Strudwick's, a worthy, good surgeon, and a friend of the deceased, but he could reach no further, than the post at the door, which he hung by with his hands until he dropped speechless, and expired. The maid heard the villain say, as he ran through the shop, damn him I have done for him; and as she had heard words often pass between the brothers, she suspected something had happened, and immediately went to the door, where she saw the deceased, weltering in his blood; upon which an hue and cry was made, and the delinquent taken and brought before Sir William Richardson, knight, where he prevaricated much, sometimes confessing, and at others denying the fact; however he was committed by Sir William, and detained the same afternoon, by Charles Jemmett Esq; coroner for the town and hundred of Kingston, for the wilful murder of his brother Robert Mihill.

P. S. A younger brother is now confined at Richmond, for threatening to set fire to the house of Mr. Mihill, senior, because he was not admitted as heir at law into the house and trade." [The father is since dead.]

Whitehaven, Sept. 19. A correspondent at Felton in Northumberland sends us the following articles.—On Tuesday was cut in a field near Felton Park, belonging to — Riddel, Esq; a cabbage, weighing four stone, four pounds, and seven ounces, growing among several hundreds of nearly the same weight, all cultivated by the horse-hoeing husbandry. This beneficial improvement in the new husbandry we recommended to the observation of our readers concerned in agriculture. For only estimating 1000 cabbages on an acre, and their weight thirty-five pounds each, it will be 35,000 pounds weight, of which we suppose a bullock can eat as much again as he can of turneps, that is to say, 30 pounds of cabbage. Now at the allowance, in which the animal is surely not flinted, the produce of the acre of land will nearly feed a bullock during four Months. Of the same genus is the Napus Sylvestris, commonly known by the name of rape or Cole, which is also well worth cultivation in this country. Mr. Miller says he has found, in several places where he has sown this seed, that one acre of land properly planted, will produce almost as much food as two acres of turneps, and will afford late food after the turneps are run to seed. One acre will produce as much as, at a moderate computation, will sell for five pounds, clear of charges. partridges, pheasants, turkeys, and most other fowls, are so fond of these plants, that if there be any of them in the neighbourhood of the field where they are cultivated, they will flock thither, and lye constantly among them.

NEW-YORK, December 20.

The Piece, entitled Animadversions upon the base, scandalous Practice of a few silly mean spirited, sneaking cowardly Villains, who by anonymous Libels, under the Title of Catalogues of Books have lately slandered, and endeavoured to traduce the Characters of many respectable Inhabitants of this City, not being ready for the Press in Time for this Supplement, is deferred, till another Opportunity.

To be Sold for Want of Employment, A HEALTHY Negro Woman about 18 Years of Age, Inquire of the Printer near the Exchange. 48-51.

New-Jersey, Morris County, 22d Nov. 1766

IN the evening of Tuesday last, Tony, the negro man of John Van Dorn, made his escape from the county gaol of this county, to which he was committed for setting fire to, and burning his master's house. He is a likely fellow, appears to be 21 or 22 years of age, about five feet ten inches high, has no hat, and very ragged brownish clothes.

Three Pounds and all reasonable expences will be paid to any person, who will deliver the above described Tony to me, or to my gaol-keeper, at Morris Town.

By JACOB FORD, jun. Sheriff.
